

We offer plenty of FREE activities for everyone in the family!

The Wild for the Arts Festival is presented by the Wild for the Arts Committee of the Friends of MacGregor Point and MacGregor Point Provincial Park.

Since 2004, the Friends of MacGregor Point Park have organized and promoted a full schedule of activities amid the autumn beauty of MacGregor Point Provincial Park. This festival celebrates creativity, as well as the arts.

Our Festival includes something for all ages...

- Hikes
- Workshops
- The Visual Arts
- Written Word
- Exploring Nature Photography
- Musical Performances

Not forgotten is the inspiring experience of enjoying the colourful autumn scenery amongst such creative works. We invite you to take part in creative activities to express your art skills, or develop a new skill. Join us for this fun weekend and prepare to be inspired by nature!

Sincerely,

The Friends and Staff of MacGregor Point Provincial Park

Writer in Residence

This year we will be doing something a little different. Sandy Conrad, this year's writer in residence, has chosen the book The Day the Falls Stood Still by Cathy Marie Buchanan as the first book club novel of Wild for the Arts. Late Saturday come gather for an energetic and fun discussion of the book, comparing opinions and identifying moments when the book spoke most clearly to the reader. Also, if you have attended any of Sandy's book clubs before, you will know that she loves a good quiz! Be ready.

All ages and opinions are most welcome!
